Even as the leaves turn and the air cools, the risk of wildfire doesn't disappear. This fall, we can all help protect the beauty of our Island.

Just like you'd look for wildlife on your hike, you can look for ways to protect your home. Clearing leaves and needles from your roof and gutters, and raking away any debris from around your property, are simple steps that make a big difference.

Let's make sure we're not feeding the wildfires. Do your part to protect PEI's natural spaces and keep our communities safe.
